

Year 12 are now producing a historical investigation on an event, individual or theme of their choice

"History has no boundaries: it allows you to learn more about whatever it is that you are personally interested in"