

Year 12 are now investigating
"How did the Suez Crisis of 1956 change the balance of power between East and West?"

Colonel Abdel Nasser of Egypt seized control of the Suez Canal – a vital world trade route - from Britain and France in 1956.

By doing so he throws down a challenge which changes the balance of power between East and West and which threatens to start a World War.

How does the story end?!

"History is about turning points that transform the modern world"